

TOTAL QUALITY MANAGEMENT FOR THE U.S. COTTON INDUSTRY

Conrad P. Lyford
Texas Tech University
Lubbock, TX

Abstract

With increasing exports and reduced government support, U.S. cotton producers and marketers have a substantially different trade environment. Increasing exports means that the U.S. cotton may want to position itself more effectively in the world market. This paper presents a general approach that can be used to evaluate and implement quality positioning efforts and improve returns.

Abstract only. Full paper not available.